

The Hebrew and Jewish Studies Unit of the University of Oxford

Hebrew and Latin Manuscripts: their Codicological Features

Trinity Term 2009

A course given by Professor Malachi Beit-Arié (Hebrew University of Jerusalem/OCHJS)
together with Professor Peter Gumbert (University of Leiden)

Wednesdays at 2.15pm in the New Bodleian Library

Week 1: 29 April

Discarded and recycled Hebrew Fragments

Week 2: 6 May

The affinity between early Hebrew printed and hand-produced books

Weeks 3 — 5: Juxtaposing Hebrew and Latin manuscripts

13 May: Quiring practices in Hebrew and Latin manuscripts

20 May: Securing the right order of the codex

27 May: Ruling techniques

Week 6: 3 June

The relationship between text and images. The case of MS Opp.776, a 15th-Century Hebrew Prayer Book presented by Dr Suzanne Wijsman, (University of Western Australia)

Week 7: 10 June

Manuscripts produced by multiple scribes

Week 8: 17 June

Identification of Geniza fragments from the same codex

Pre-registration for this course is required.

Please e-mail: enquiries@ochjs.ac.uk

Sponsored by the Kennedy Leigh Foundation

