

EUROPEAN SEMINAR ON ADVANCED JEWISH STUDIES

Trinity Term 2010

THE READING OF HEBREW AND JEWISH TEXTS IN THE EARLY MODERN PERIOD

Convenors: Piet van Boxel and Joanna Weinberg

Thursdays, 1.00pm at Exeter College (except 17 May)

(lunch provided)

- May 6: Federica Francesconi (UCLA)
“This Passage Can also Be Read differently...:” Jewish-Christian Confrontation in Seventeenth-Century Modena
- May 17:
4.15 pm Anthony Grafton (Princeton University)
How Jesus Celebrated Passover: The Last Supper in Early Modern Scholarship
- May 27: Theodor Dunkelgrün (University of Chicago)
From Biblical Humanism to Historical Criticism: the Hebrew scholarship of Johannes Drusius (1550-1616)
- June 3: Andrew Berns (University of Pennsylvania)
The Role of Hebrew in Medical and Natural Scientific Research in Early Modern Italy
- June 10: Piet van Boxel (The Bodleian/OCHJS)
The Basel Talmud: Censorial Cooperation between Jews and Christians
- June 17: Anthony Grafton (Princeton) /Joanna Weinberg (OCHJS)
A master Hebraist: Johannes Buxtorf and his Hebrew copybook